

Challenging Jewish Power

Francis Clark-Lowes 12th April 2011

Let's put it simply, here we are:
The Palestinian's foe is Jewish power.
And where's this power precisely sourced?
Why don't you know: the 'Holocaust'!

So if oppression you would end,
Your outlook you would needs extend;
The Nazi time must now be studied.
You'll soon find out the truth's been muddied.

In fact we face a pack of lies;
It's time we broke through this disguise
And told the world what's going on,
And overthrew this mighty con.

'That's rubbish,' cry the Chosen Race,
And Gentiles too, who know their place.
'We'll make your life a living hell;
Soon folk will act as if you smell.'

Well I for one will not be cowed,
I'll challenge what is not allowed.
Perchance a few may like the scent;
We'll wonder where the others went.
